Teamsters Will Try to Kick Out Dave Beck

WASHINGTON (UP) — Informed sources said today Teamster executive board members will attempt to kick out Teamster President Dave Beck one way or another when the board meets July 1 at Los Angeles.

The sources said a group of board members including Secretary-Treasurer John F. English and Vice President William A. Lee of Chicago will call for Beck's resignation.

Should Beck refuse, the group may suggest that he take a leave of absence until his term as President expires Dec. 1, sources said. Beck — Plagued by Senate charges of theft and federal charges of tax evasion — already has announced he will not run for reelection at the giant union's convention in September.

AFL-CIO president George Meany told a cheering labor audience yesterday that Beck "has no right to be in the trade-union movement" and should be "kicked out now" — not in September.

"John English has said the Teamsters will clean their dirty linen," Meany told AFL-CIO's first annual Industrial Relations Conference. "If they give Beck the title of President-emeritus that is not a cleaning job."

Meany's statement hinted that unless the Teamsters remove Beck in a way satisfactory to the AFL-CIO the union may face being ousted. The AFL-CIO ethical practices committee has held up any action against the teamsters pending their efforts to clean house.

Pilot of One Crashed Jet Is Saved

ABOARD USS SARATOGA (M) — The pilot of one of the two jet planes which plunged into the Atlantic last night has been rescued, it was announced aboard this supercarrier today.

The report spelled at least partial success for a mercy operation that had sharply curtailed Navy maneuvers at which President Eisenhower, a guest aboard the Saratoga, was a spectator. Sixteen of the 18 warships escorting the "Big Sara" had been sent to take part in the hunt, and four of the 60,000-ton carrier's own planes were put into the search at dawn.

Announcement of the rescue came shortly after word had been received aboard the Saratoga that a man on a life raft had been sighted about 120 miles northeast of Jacksonville, Fla. That was the area in which the jet fighters went down last night.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said the report came from the heavy cruiser Boston.

The effects of the diversion of forces appeared in the day's scheduled program for Eisenhower.

The sharp paring of the Saratoga's escort of warships wiped out plans to give Eisenhower a look at firing of a Terrier guided missile from a heavy cruiser.

It also eliminated a demonstration of antisubmarine warfare tactics and of precautions against effects of radioactive fallout from atomic weapons.

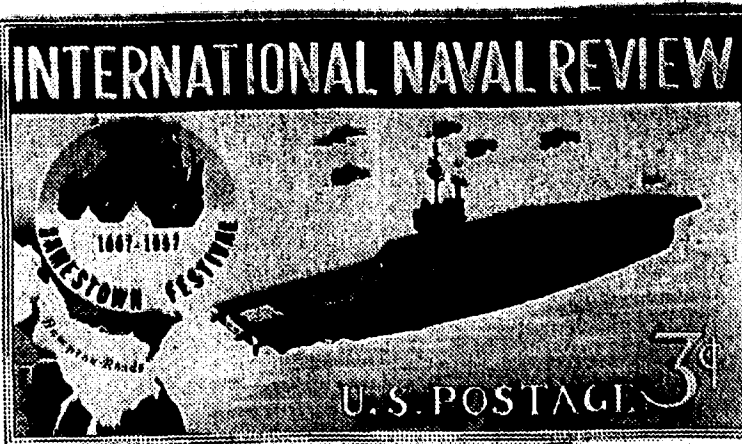

Eisenhower himself kept close touch with the search for the missing single-seater F3H Demons.

Also in the search were air-sea rescue planes from Jacksonville, Savannah and Charleston, together with Coast Guard air and surface craft. The Navy also alerted civilian vessels in the area.

The President planned to return to the Mayport Naval Base at Jacksonville, in the early afternoon.

Word from presidential aides was that he wanted nothing to stand in the way of an all-out effort to rescue the missing fliers.

Last night a combination of gusty winds, rain and an electrical storm forced cancellation of a major portion of an after-dark exercise arranged for the President. Only four of a scheduled dozen planes went up in a drill that involved the use of radar and a new mirror deck landing system to bring them back.

FESTIVAL STAMP—This three-cent International Review—Jamestown Festival postage stamp will go on sale in Norfolk, Va., on June 10, when warships of a score of foreign navies will pass in review in commemoration of the 350th anniversary of the first English settlement in America. In the right portion of the stamp is a U.S. aircraft carrier of the Forrestal class against a background of silhouetted outlines of ships participating in the naval review. The official Jamestown Festival insignia is prominently featured at left, superimposed over a map of the Hampton Roads area.

U.S. Red China Policy Is Frozen

By AMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (M) — American policy on Red China, having gone full circle, is frozen now. The Eisenhower administration shows no signs of thawing it. But it may have to.

Time was when this country not only washed its hands of Chiang Kai-shek but gave the Red Chinese a clear road to invade Formosa, where he fled with the remnants of his Nationalist government in the fall of 1949.

But it switched under President Truman, when the Korean War began, and the Truman policy is being continued by President Eisenhower.

This country still refuses to recognize the Red Chinese as the real government of mainland China. It totally bans American trade with them. It refuses to agree to let them into the United Nations.

It takes the position that Chiang's "Formosa government" is the only one entitled to represent all China in the U. N., and it is pledged to defend Formosa from Red Chinese attack.

At the same time the United States will not let Chiang attack the mainland. He couldn't do it anyway, without American help. So he and his troops sit there getting older, apparently with nothing to look forward to except dying.

But American allies — like Britain — are getting fed up with the rigidity of American policy. They're beginning to assert themselves. Britain, for instance, recognized the Reds as the legitimate government of China from the moment they smashed Chiang in 1949.

They've been willing — so far — to defer to American wishes against pushing for admittance of Red China to the U. N. but money counts, and trade means money. On this the British finally kicked up their heels.

Under American insistence after the entry of Chinese Communists into the Korean War, the Allies have had far less trade with Red China than with Russia. This no longer made sense to the British when they needed money.

Within the past two weeks they announced their own new, independent policy: they'll do just about the same kind of trading with Red China as with Russia. Others, like Japan, will probably follow suit.

The Allies, through trade and other contacts with Red China, may achieve an advantageously close relationship which will estrange this country from its friends or force a relation in its attitude toward Red China.

The Eisenhower administration, in its continuing refusal to recognize the Red government of China, has already made American policy look like a bit of fiction. For months this country has been negotiating in Geneva with the Chinese Reds.

The Eisenhower administration has given the impression — at least at times — of letting the extreme pro-Chiang Republicans in Congress set this country's policy toward Red China. They've been utterly rigid.

An example came this week at Eisenhower's news conference when he said he didn't see "as much advantage" as some other do in this country's insistence on more limited trade with Red China than with Russia.

His statement raised an immediate question: If that's how he feels, why didn't he take the lead in doing something about it? Chiang fled to Formosa Dec. 10, 1949. But four months before then — on Aug. 5 — Truman's administration issued a "white paper" which said further help to Chiang was useless because his government must was a failure.

And on Jan. 5, 1950, just 26 days before Chiang got to Formosa, Truman laid down a new American policy: no interference with the Chinese people — meaning all Chinese — and no American defense of Formosa if the Red Chinese attacked.

Truman reversed the policy in June 1950 when the Korean War began. To protect the United States' southern flank, he ordered the 7th Fleet to protect Formosa from Red attack.

Since then Eisenhower has ordered the 7th Fleet to back off, and in 1955 this country signed a mutual defense pact with Chiang. But essentially U. S. China policy remains unchanged.

Investment Firm in 24th Dividend

Crown Western Investments, Inc., a mutual fund in its 12th year of operation, yesterday declared its 24th consecutive semi-annual dividend, on its two series of stock.

The board of directors authorized a distribution of 25¢ per share in the Diversified Income Fund series the same as a year ago, and a distribution of 40¢ per share in the Dallas Fund series, twice the amount paid a year ago. Both distributions are payable as of June 27 on shares of record June 17.

Charles L. Moruzzi, President, reported gross assets of the Fund at a new high of $4,050,582 at the close of business on June 3, 1957, as against gross assets of $2,936,908 on June 1, 1956. Shares outstanding reached a new high, also, of 554,907 as compared with 414,770 on June 1, 1956.

The President reported that during the last 12 months both sales and purchases of securities were extensive. "Security markets," he said, "have been highly selective with a great number of stocks showing little if any change. In his type of market, we felt that a broader diversification was desirable."

As a result, security issues in the portfolio were increased from 103 as of a year ago, to a new high of 136 issues. The greatest increase occurred in holdings of long term industrial bonds and debentures. Presently, assets are 85% invested in common stocks, 8% in bonds and the balance in preferreds and government bonds.

The net per-share asset value in the Diversified Income Fund series, adjusted for 40¢ of capital gains paid since June 1, 1956, was equal to $7.37 against $6.91 a year ago; that of the Dallas Fund series, adjusted for 30¢ of capital gains paid out, was $7.21 against $7.85 a year ago.

Sales of new shares during the first five months of 1957 were 80 c/o ahead of the similar period for 1956.

20 Counties in Disaster Area

LITTLE ROCK (M) — The federal Small Business Administration has declared a total of 20 Arkansas counties eligible for long-term, low interest loans because of recent flood losses.

Eighteen counties were declared eligible yesterday and two others, Greene and Polk, were made eligible Wednesday.

The 18 counties are under the Little Rock office of the SBA, while Greene and Polk counties are in the Memphis district. These are the 18 counties:

Benton, Madison, Carroll, Boone, Sevier, Crawford, Sebastian, Franklin, Logan, Johnson, Yell, Boone, Conway, Perry, Pulaski, Monroe, Jefferson and Little River. Any individual in a residential area of the designated counties may apply for a loan if he suffered property loss. Money for repairs may be borrowed at 3 per cent interest with up to 20 years to pay it back. Flood repair loans for farmers are handled by another federal agency.

Probers to Give Bakers Union Head a Chance

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (M) — Senate investigators said today Bakers Union President James G. Cross will get a chance to answer under oath testimony linking his name with that of a convicted prostitute.

The woman, brunette Mrs. Kay Lower, 26, of Los Angeles, was identified by Los Angeles police as a convicted prostitute.

She pleaded the Fifth Amendment yesterday in refusing to tell the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee whether Cross beat her for giving another man a diamond ring, or whether Cross funneled union funds to her from Washington through his Los Angeles aides.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), the committee chairman, said Cross "will have the opportunity to comment" as a witness after the hearings resume next Thursday.

Mrs. Loer, sporting a blood-shot left eye refused even to tell the committee whether she knows Cross. But she did say "I imagine so" when asked whether she had received union funds from Cross, a married man.

Albert Barclay, ousted office manager of Bakers Local No. 37 in Los Angeles, gave testimony about a union fund to hire "goons." He also said the international union sent $75 a week to the local for "Mr. Cross' girl friend so to speak, Mrs. Elsie Kay Lower."

Dogs Tested for Effects of Radiation

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (M) — Scientists at the University of California are undertaking a "womb to tomb" study of the effects of radioactive strontium on dogs.

Dr. Charles Dunham listed this project today as among various studies he said are being carried on or supported by the Atomic Energy Commission in a search for more information on fallout from nuclear bombs and its biological effects.

Dunham, chief of the AEC's Medicine and Biology division mentioned the dog study only briefly in testimony prepared for the final session of hearings before a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee.

Since May 27, the subcommittee has been seeking an evaluation by many top scientists of the extent of hazard from radioactive fallout.

While Dunham gave no details of the "womb to tomb" study, presumably it will be aimed at determining the results of exposing the animals to varying doses of strontium from the time they are embryos until their deaths.

Strontium, one of the materials in fallout, is a potential cause of bone cancer. But it's still an unsettled question among scientists as to just how much of it would lead to malignancy.

At yesterday's hearing, AEC Commissioner Willard F. Libby said there is a need for more research by scientists into the biological effects of radioactive fallout.

Housewife at Helena Is Electrocuted

HELENA (M) — Mrs. Nelzie Victoria Whitworth, 23-year-old housewife, was electrocuted yesterday in a freak accident at her home in Crumpled.

Investigating officers said a wire netting fence around a chicken pen in the back yard somehow became electrified from contact with a high tension power pole and Mrs. Whitworth brushed against it.

She was pronounced dead on arrival at a Helena hospital. Survivors include her husband and two sons, 17 and 19.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (M) — Among midshipmen scheduled to graduate from the U. S. Naval Academy here today were four Arkansans. They were:

Thomas P. James Jr., 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. James of Batesville; Richard M. Chastain, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chastain of Crossett; Stanley P. Strickland, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Strickland of El Dorado; and John A. Holl III, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Holl of Fort Smith.

Indicted Officials Get Absent Leaves

LITTLE ROCK (M) — Two indicted employees of the State Police Weights and Standards Division have been granted indefinite leaves of absence at their own request.

State Police Commission Chairman Hubert Mayes said yesterday he granted the leaves to D. J. Raper and B. B. Hunter, both of Little Rock.

The two men were indicted by the Crittenden County Grand Jury last week on bribery and extortion charges involving two alleged bribes amounting to $345.

Gov. Orval Faubus had suggested that the two men should be suspended until after trial on the charges.

Man Couldn't Cry Now Eats and Weeps

NEW YORK (M) — A man who couldn't cry now weeps when he eats.

He couldn't cry because distaste had knocked out his tear glands. This also meant he had no normal moisture at all in his eyes. They became dry, so scratched, ulcerated. He began going blind.

Surgeons stepped in. They intercepted a duct that brings saliva to the mouth and switched it over to one eye.

But then whenever he ate, or saw food, his eyes watered. Just like your mouth waters when you're hungry and sit down to dinner.

"I needed a little moisture in my eye, and they gave me Lake Erie," the young man said.

The surgeons fixed this too. The disease had also knocked out the drainage duct that normally produced in a healthy eye. They gave him an artificial drainage tube into the nose.

Now he has an eye which is normally moist, but which doesn't flood so much when he sees food.

This amazing case was described today to the American Medical Association by Dr. James E. Bennett and Arby L. Bailey, of Cleveland Veterans Administration Hospital in Cleveland.

The surgeons now plan to fix his right eye, which also was dried and damaged in the same way.

The man, a Negro, 24, suffered an eye condition known as xerophthalmia, as an aftermath of a serious skin disease.

Says Stalin Has Stroke in Fit of Rage

PARIS (M) — The newspaper France-Solr said today Joseph Stalin suffered his fatal stroke while in a fit of rage over Poliburo opposition to a plan he had to deport all Jews from Russia.

Secret Police chief Lavrenty Beria, the paper said, danced around the stricken dictator's body laughing and crying, "We are free, finally."

The newspaper said its account of the stormy meeting which left the dictator unconscious on the floor was revealed in Warsaw by P. K. Ponomarenko, Soviet ambassador to Poland, during an interview with Polish Communist journalists.

The newspaper gave this account of the Poliburo meeting late in February 1953: Stalin raged against a "Zionist and imperialist plot" directed at the Soviet Union and announced he planned to deport all Jews to the remote region of Birobidzhan, in the Jewish autonomous area in eastern Siberia.

Y. M. Molotov, then foreign minister, tremblingly told Stalin such a move would have a "deplorable effect" on public opinion outside Russia. Molotov's wife is Jewish.

At that point Soviet Marshal Klement Voroshilov stood up, hurled his party card to the floor and said: "If one takes such a step I would be ashamed to remain a member of our party which will be completely dishonored."

Stalin flew into a rage. He screamed at Voroshilov: "It is I who will decide when you no longer have the right to keep your membership card."

Beria danced around the body, laughing and crying "We are free," but when Stalin's daughter, Svetlana, came in the room and embraced the body, he fell on his knees and asked forgiveness.

Stalin was taken to his private apartment in the Kremlin. His death was announced March 5, 1953.

Slimmer Foreign Aid Bill Clears Its First Hurdle

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (M) — President Eisenhower's foreign aid bill has cleared its first hurdle, slimmer by more than 200 million dollars.

By a 12-3 vote, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved the bill yesterday after cutting $227,000,000 of the presidential request of $3,864,410,000 for military and economic aid to free-world nations in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In view of the congressional economy drive, some had expected heavier committee cuts.

The measure, now carrying authority for $3,637,110,000, faces rougher going next week on the Senate floor.

The committee — approved version gives the President authority to continue foreign aid beyond a year, and it also gives him flexibility in other ways.

Only two Democrats — Morse of Oregon and Long of Louisiana — and one Republican, Langer of North Dakota, supported Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) when he offered an amendment to cut the over-all authority in the bill by about 800 million dollars. Langer voted by proxy from his sickbed.

In addition to the $3,637,110,000 in new spending authority, the committee also authorized re-appropriation of 500 million dollars for military assistance from funds left over from the current fiscal year.

And it authorized a two billion dollar, three year program for making loans for economic development abroad—providing for a 500 million dollar appropriation for the year starting July 1, plus authority to borrow 750 million from the treasury in each of the two succeeding years.

It also approved a two-year program for military assistance and defense supplies, which would enable the State and Defense Departments to plan aid that far ahead.

Smoking Bunny Is a Fugitive at Dallas

DALLAS (M) — If a big red rabbit with a New Zealand accent hops up to you on a street corner and says, "Buddy, can you spare a match?" call the nearest VA hospital. Not for yourself. For the bunny. He's an escaped.

If one of the book-kind-to-animal type, give him a couple of cigarettes before he's carried away. He probably is crazy about them.

The bunny has the nicotine habit pretty bad if he's one of the 40 at the Veterans Administration hospital here. His quota of smokes is a pack a day.

Dr. Robert H. Holland of the hospital's staff started the rabbit on his smoking binge about a year ago.

"Strangely enough most of the rabbits seem to enjoy smoking," the doctor said. "Especially New Zealand reds." They're big rabbits with mahogany markings.

Only one bunny balks at smoking, the VA reports, but the researchers force him to go along with the crowd.

Dr. Holland said today that he and his staff hope to answer the question of whether cigarettes can cause lung cancer.

"Rabbits react to certain lung conditions more like humans than do rats, mice or other laboratory animals," he said.

Dr. Holland's bunnies spend 3 out of each 24 hours in plastic boxes filled with electronic gadgets.

Although the rabbits have been smoking a year, Dr. Holland has issued no findings on his research. The life span of a rabbit is about 5 years, and conclusions must wait until autopsies are performed after the animals die.

When a rabbit is put in his smoking box, a lighted cigarette is placed exactly two centimeters from its nose.

The animal gets fresh air at all times, but when electric timing devices and solenoid switches close an opening in the box, the rabbit gets a puff of smoke.

Fire Damages Shop in Van Buren

VAN BUREN (M) — Fire heavily damaged a barber shop and a furniture store in downtown Van Buren yesterday.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in the rear of J.W. Scott's barber shop and spread to a next-door building which housed the Browder Furniture and Appliance Store.

Mayor Calls for Vote on Board of Directors

Auto Industry to Stress Safety

DETROIT (M) — The auto industry says that from now on speed is a dirty word.

It is to be replaced in the trade's vocabulary by safety, reliability and comfort.

This is a decision of the directors of the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. These directors include the presidents of the Big Three in the industry — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — as well as top executives from every other volume producer of passenger cars.

If the decision is adhered to rigidly, the days probably are gone when car A will claim it won the Pike's Peak Race while car B says it swept the field at Daytona Beach.

The manufacturers have made wide use of race and contest results in their advertising. The emphasis in post-war years has been on speed and increasing horsepower.

Money Saving Casting Mold Is Developed

By JOHN B. KNOX

WATERTOWN, Mass. (M) — Army scientists at the Watertown Arsenal revealed today that they have developed a technique in the making of metal castings which is expected to save American industry millions of dollars.

The invention will be available to all American industries making castings.

The new process for making sand molds for castings uses low-cost waterglass to hold the sand together. It may save at least 90 per cent of the cost of such molds.

More expensive resin-type bonding agents are now used for molds in the automobile, hardware machinery and tool industries.

Philip Carbonaro, director of the arsenal's Rodman Laboratory, said the new process will lend itself to automation, introducing still further foundry efficiency — and savings. The process will especially benefit smaller firms.

"Resinless shell moldings" is the term applied to the process. It was invented by Paul J. Ahearn, of the laboratory's experimental foundry branch.

The biggest complaint against present molds has been the relatively high cost of resin. In addition, transportation of resin-including a fluid hazard — adding cost to its use. And in certain types of steel, the transformation of the resin in the mold into gas creates a rough casting.

Water glass is abundant and cheap.

Retirement for Preachers Hiked

HOT SPRINGS (M) — A 9 per cent increase in retirement pay for ministers was voted here today by the Little Rock Conference of the Methodist Church.

The boost means that the conference now will pay retired ministers $17 annual for each year of service.

The Rev. Roland E. Darrow of Monticello, who proposed the increase, said the pension endowment fund now totals approximately $357,000.

The retirement of three ministers was announced. The retiring clergymen and their years of service were: The Revs. W. R. Boyd of Eudora, 35 years; C. D. Cade of Chidester, 36 years; R. A. Teeter of Hot Springs, 36 years.

Louis W. Averitt of Texarkana was re-elected conference treasurer.

Wisconsin to Name a New Senator

MADISON, Wis. (M) — Wisconsin voters will vote in a special election Aug. 27 to fill the U. S. Senate vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

The date for the balloting was set yesterday by Gov. Vernon Thomson, who had announced last Monday that the post would be filled in a special election.

Denied appointive power by state law, Thomson had the option of leaving the office vacant until the regular election in the fall of 1958.

Sets August 14 for 2nd City Manager Vote

Keeping a pledge to fully cooperate with the will of local citizens at all times, Mayor H. M. Olsen today issued a proclamation calling for a special election Wednesday, August 14, for a vote on a board of commissioners for the city management plan of government.

Thus in all probability this city will become the first in Arkansas to adopt the city manager form of government, the new regime taking over possibly on August 19.

On April 24, citizens of Hope approved the manager plan by a three to one vote, 735 for and 245 against.

The move for a city manager plan started here in early March with a meeting of a small group of citizens. A citywide meeting was called and the plan was explained to the people.

There was no opposition from Mayor Olsen who indicated from the outset his willingness to cooperate by calling an election if the people of Hope so desired. The Mayor went a step further and following the vote promised he would call the board

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy D. D.

A part from its supreme importance as God's book for man's life, for guidance in conduct and salvation, the Bible is a vast and realistic book of human experience. Why have the stories of what happened in family and tribal life many centuries before the Christian era continued to have such interest and importance? Why do thousands, if not millions read them in the world's best-selling book, and hundreds, if not thousands, of Sunday schools study them?

I think it is because these stories are of universal interest, and illustrate the actions and problems that continue to affect individuals and society.

Among such stories that of Jacob and Esau seems in some respects far removed from modern life. Its setting is primitive, with its hunting and its "mess of pottage," and its "birthright," so transferable and disposable; all of which fits in with a mother's ambition and trickery and household intrigue.

But it is precisely these things in their crudeness that continue to day to be manifest in ways that are as devious, if less crude. The unbrotherly relations of Jew and Arab are as real as the conflict between Jacob and Esau.

And in other relationships in life, estrangement and conflict are life in many communities.

I remember two prominent brothers in my own small town who would have nothing to do with each other. They were apart and in conflict as much as Jacob and Esau, and with my own home and boyhood notions of what brothers ought to be I can recall how shocked I was that blood brothers could live from day to day in such a condition of enmity.

I don't know what had caused the dissension and separation between these brothers; but it is a situation which, if not typical, is not altogether uncommon.

And such situations of enmity are common among those whose daily contacts in business and society, and even common interests, ought to suggest cordial, if not brotherly relationships. I suppose that personal ambition, the passion to get ahead, is one natural cause.

The fact is that despite the great propaganda of brotherhood, we live to a great extent in a most unbrotherly world. What we need is not less propaganda of brotherhood, but more concentration on the occasions and cause of unbrotherliness. And it is here that the Bible could be our greatest help. It teaches by its sad examples and warnings as much as by its exhortation an ideals.

Its ancient stories may change their form, but the essentials remain. The warnings and teachings they imply need vastly greater heeding in a modern world beset with the same problems.

3 Killed Trying to Escape Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Three young brothers were killed early today and a fourth was injured when he jumped from the second floor of a three-story building which was swept by fire.

The victims, sons of Charles W. Yates, 44, were identified as Paul, 12; Louis, 10; and Richard, 8. Phillip Yates, 20, was taken to a hospital with injuries suffered when he leaped from the family's second-floor apartment.

Yates, his wife, Virgie, and their three other children, Betty, 6; Dennis, 3; and Lorvin, 1, were sleeping in a first-floor bedroom and escaped unharmed when the fire broke out. The dead brothers were found on the floor of their second-floor room.

Coroner Walter McCarron said 11 families lived in the building on the Near North Side that had originally been a three-family flat.

Bride, Groom Program Is Coming Back

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Bride and Groom is coming back. After an absence of three years from the home screen, the marriage ceremony will receive a video treatment every Monday through Friday beginning July 1 over NBC-TV.

Singer Frank Parker and actor Robert Paige will serve as co-hosts of the program on which 2,340 couples were married during five years of radio and four years of television.

John Reddy, producer of the show throughout his long life says Bride and Groom has but one object. "We try to give the ordinary American girl a chance to have a big wedding on television, just like Grace Kelly and Queen Elizabeth."

The idea is simple enough: a girl marries a guy before the TV audience and they are showered with all kinds of loot — refrigerators, toasters, swimming pools, a trip here or there. The only thing they forfeit is their freedom.

The hearts, flowers and booty implicit in the program made to a housewives' delight. There are all kinds of statistics available on the show — except the total gallons of joyful tears spilled by tired housewives in vicious delight at attending a wedding.

On the other hand, one Long Island husband was arrested for his dissenting opinion on Bride and Groom. He grew so tired of his wife watching the program every day that he drew a 38 and scored a bull's-eye on their TV set. Not all males agreed with him, however. Inmates of San Quentin Prison voted it a daytime favorite.

Bride and Groom marriages endure, says producer Reddy. A questionnaire sent 1,100 couples married on the show "revealed that their divorce rate was less than one tenth that of the national average."

Graham Says Religion Has No Color Line

By GEORGE CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) — A man who looks down on another human being because of his color, Billy Graham says, is sinning against God.

"The heart of all men is the same in God's sight, despite the shape of their physique or the color of the skin," he told a crowd of 30,000 at Madison Square Garden last night.

He said God spurns the "prejudice and bigotry that I fear many often have even in the churches today."

Taking his sermon text from John 4:20, in which Jesus defies the racial hostility between Jews and Samaritans by teaching a Samaritan woman at Jacob's well, Graham said:

"Jesus had no national animosities. Jesus had no racial prejudice. Jesus had no bigotry. Whether a person walked different or talked different or had a different color of skin."

The evangelist said, "God looks on the heart," not the physical characteristics. "God made of one blood all nations."

Graham touched on the subject only briefly, but it is one which he has mentioned repeatedly throughout his New York crusade. In one sermon he said he knew of many Christians who sit down and sing, "Oh how I love Jesus," and hate a man because of his color.

"It is an abomination of God," he added. "It's taking the name of God in vain."

He said at another meeting, "I know of hundreds who hate others without cause, and use as an excuse the color of skin. And it's not confined to one section of the United States, but all over the world."

"God," he said, "does not judge by your color, by your social status, or your standing on Wall Street."

At the end of Graham's sermon, 222 persons responded to his plea to "yield your life to Christ." So far, a total of 12,500 have taken the step.

Graham's crusade entered its fourth week today, now is scheduled to run until July 21, with a possibility of the meeting being held in Yankee Stadium on the closing date, and at the Polo

DOROTHY DIX

Is Fat Savings Account Essential to Marriage?

Dear Dorothy Dix: I believe that a good marriage depends on a strong foundation. Six months ago I met a charming man who wants to marry me. However, although he is 30 and has a good job, he has no money saved. He is very generous to his family — in fact, I think they take advantage of him. He maintains things will work out after we're married. I'd like to see a bank balance first. He's not my last resort! I have two other men who like me very much. Lyndia

Dear Lyndia: There have been marriages that worked out very well without the backing of a savings account. I wouldn't recommend the practice as a general procedure, but neither would I frown on it if all other factors were favorable.

In your case I don't think they are. There's the brevity of your friendship, the uncertainty of your own feelings, and your grim determination to remake your man completely. A man of happy, care-free habits can't be turned into a docile, domesticated creature. Unless you are willing to compromise, better seek a more compatible mate.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have to wear glasses and can't seem to Attract a certain boy's attention. KATHY

Dear Kathy: You should try contact lenses. However, glasses are so glamorous today that some girls wear them just for appearance. Get yourself a pair of extra-flattering specs and you can't avoid attracting the boy's attention.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 14 and very much in love with a 35-year-old man. I've been seeing him secretly. I know if my mother finds out she'll keep me locked in my room. LONELY HEART
Dear Lonely Heart: I hope Mom finds out soon. You deserve to be locked in your room — and he should be safely locked up in the local jail.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a friend with a doting husband whose only fault is taking a drink occasionally. My friend is constantly nagging him about this and also accuses him of going out with other women. Her mother picks on him too. GINNY
Dear Ginny your friend is apparently the type who does her darndest to ruin her marriage, then wails, "How can I get my husband back?"

Some people must learn the hard way. You can try talking to her, but I doubt if she'll listen.

New Little Rock, Spa Route Slated

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The Arkansas Highway Commission today programmed additional work for a new route between Little Rock and Hot Springs.

Placed on its agenda, approximately 9.6 miles of lanes would be added between the Pulaski County line and Benton at an estimated cost of $2,325,000.

A contract already has been let for two added lanes between the county line and the Little Rock and work is under way. When the project under construction and the one mentioned today are completed, there will be a 4-lane highway from Little Rock to Benton.

Also programmed was approximately 2.8 miles of surfacing from southwest of Benton along the new Benton-Hot Springs route. This project will connect with another job, for which a contract was let today.

Highway Director Herbert Eldridge said that a final asphalt treatment would be applied to the entire road when the Hot Springs connection with the new highway is prepared for the final coating. He said it would take seven or eight months.

Another item was for a bridge over the Saline River at an estimated cost of $1,400,000.

The commission in the same general program also authorized several interchanges at intersections with other roads.

The entire cost was estimated at $7,307,000.

Highway Director Herbert Eldridge said that plans for the overall program probably would be complete by the end of this year but he did not give a target date on individual items.

The commission programmed at an estimated cost of $14,168,000 access and interchange facilities on the new interstate route of U.S. Highway 61 and 70 from West Memphis approximately 28 miles north. Included would be interchanges at Marion and Lake David, and additional paving between West Memphis and Lehi and between Marion and Turrell.

San Antonio, Tex. (AP) — A controversial heart-plant of extension and highway construction is today before sentencing drill instructor A. 2 O. William Roberts, Jr. convicted of mistreating a basic trainee.

Roberts was convicted yesterday of mistreating Robert Dinsinger, 20, New York City, out of his bunk to the floor.

It acquitted him of striking Dinsinger.

Variety Key Word in Meat Specials

By The Associated Press
Variety is the key word in the meat specials advertised by many supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this week.

Generally higher prices for beef and pork—from 4 to 6 cents for the former and as much as 11 cents for the latter—have cut down the number of stores featuring these old standbys. In their places, assorted cuts of veal, lamb and ham, plus several varieties of poultry will be offered.

Veal and lamb prices are reported just about unchanged this week, but sharp rises in wholesale prices for lambs may mean higher counter prices eventually. Wholesale prices for hogs were up sharply this week, too, touching 2-year-highs.

Chicken might account for a bigger share of the market, except that prices for fryers are up in some areas by 4 to 8 cents a pound. Broilers, fryers, roasting chickens and stewing chickens all will be featured.

Lower price tags on lettuce and cabbage may help the housewife to compensate for higher meat prices.

On the outstanding list this week are radishes from nearby fields, green onions, spinach, storage potatoes and new yellow and green squashes from Southern growing areas.

Other good buys are bunched beets when they're available from nearby fields, green beans, new white potatoes from California and South Carolina, Jersey asparagus, western topped carrots and Florida sweet corn.

A bumper crop of rhubarb from eastern growing areas is keeping the long-stemmed item on the outstanding buy among the fruits. Good buys may be had among grapefruit, watermelons and Valencia oranges from Florida, as well as lemons and navel and Valencia oranges grown in California. Also on the good buy list are mangoes, an unfamiliar item to some shoppers. These look somewhat like a large Anjou pear with a bluish on it and have a distinctive flavor.

Russia Wants Pledge of No Atom Weapons

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union has proposed to the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee that a first step toward disarmament include a "solemn pledge" not to use atomic weapons.

The official Soviet news agency Tass today reported the proposal was made by Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin during a closed meeting of the five-nation subcommittee here yesterday.

Informants said British Delegate Allan Noble countered that it is not "realistic" to try to abolish the use of atomic weapons through a simple pledge. He was said to have told the meeting such pledges are likely to be worthless unless they are backed by appropriate control and enforcement machinery.

The sources said Zorin then charged Noble with "going back on the words uttered by representatives of the Western countries in the subcommittee."

The Tass account did not mention the exchange between Zorin and Noble.

In addition to the Soviet Union and Britain, the subcommittee is made up of France, Canada and the United States. The Western members in the past have opposed Soviet proposals for abolishing nuclear weapons by declaration and without some form of inspection and control.

A pledge by Britain, the United States and Russia — the only nations with atomic and hydrogen bombs — not to use such weapons could "fundamentally change the entire world situation and lay the foundation for a further advance toward solving all problems of disarmament."

The Tass report quoted Zorin as saying:

"A pledge by Britain, the United States and Russia — the only nations with atomic and hydrogen bombs — not to use such weapons could 'fundamentally change the entire world situation and lay the foundation for a further advance toward solving all problems of disarmament.'"

Robert, 22, who weighs 110 pounds, also acquitted of kicking another basic trainee, George E. Walker, 30, Springfield, Mo.

Robert, of Key West, Fla., faced a maximum penalty of six months in prison, a fine of two thirds of his pay, for six months and a dishonorable discharge. The minimum was reprimand or restriction to quarters for a time specified by the court.

"Considering we had an uphill fight I feel we were victorious," Robert said. He told a reporter he would appeal.

Previously, Roberts had asserted he was being made a scapegoat and that Air Force basic training is too soft.

Wondered how I would take this," he said. "Right now I feel real good."

Michael Ritz, his civilian attorney, said the verdict cleared Roberts of the most serious charges against him.

Robert died two days after the alleged incident. However, Roberts was not on trial for his death, which officially was attributed to heart exhaustion and a kidney ailment.

The defense presented witnesses disputing prosecution testimony that Roberts hit and kicked basic trainees under his command.

Tebbetts Says Phils Could Go All Way

PHILADELPHIA (M) - No less an authority than Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs says the Philadelphia Phillies are no morning glories.

"With their pitching and those good-looking rookie kids they are going to be tough all the way," Tebbetts was impressed with the way the Redlegs last night after losing the previous night under a set of circumstances that could melt a steel-nerved veteran.
They lost a possible run because of interference by a fan, and booted home the tying and winning runs.

If Manager Mayo Smith's club, spotted with rookies in vital positions, was going to fold, here was the team to do it. The club had been winning on great pitching and tight defense. The hitting in the past two weeks had been on the pitiful side.

But Smith set the tone when he told the club to forget last night's game and "let's start all over." That they did, and against Tebbetts' best starting pitcher, lefty Don Gross. In fact, it looked as if the club had traded uniforms. The Phillies hit home runs like Redlegs. Three of them were sailing out of the park, the fifth of the season each for Stan Lopata, Bob Bowman and Rip Ac-pulski.

Field & Stream

By Joe Stetson
Dog Editor

Judging a cocker spaniel trial,
I was pleased by the quality of entries in the Field Dog stake.

This relatively new stake was established to encourage novice owners to run dogs.

Dogs were to be judged in accordance with their desire to hunt, evidence of nose, lack of gunshyness and natural retrieving instinct. Somewhere among the thousands of cockers in each state of the Union must be a few who still remain the desirable functional characteristics of the breed's heritage.

The field dog stake was designed to discover them to convince owners of successful candidates that it is worth while, and, perhaps, occasionally use the combi-national of bench conformation and functional ability to such dogs to get closer to a single objective in breeding.

Cockers are a heterogeneous bunch
in the field or useless bench dogs.
The pleasant surprise was an entry which, granted, was uninformed as to regularity of pattern, retrieving finesse and handling,
but showed marked industry, ability to locate game, willingness to flush it boldly, stability under gunfire, interest and eyesight to mark accurately and natural desire to retrieve to hand.

This is a tall order for the general run of today's cockers, but the entire entry, small though it was, qualified. The placings were a field bred cocker first, bench bred cockers second and third and a field bred cocker fourth.

Their owners can run over either of the bench bred dogs in the field and be proud of their honesty wherever they may go.

No cocker with the boldness to work as these dogs did is likely to be a psychological problem, as it is true of many of their brethren.

Fishing Report for Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (M) - Here is the Arkansas fishing report and forecast, prepared by the State Game and Fish Commission:

worms; black bass medium to good on scattered areas; lake conditions good.

Lake Catherine: Bream fair on worms and popping bugs.
Lake Ouachita: Bass fair on artificial bait; crappie fair to good to finhows; bream good on worms;
lake clear.

Bull Shoals Lake: Black bass good on all bait; white bass in school; catfish good on throw and trot line.

Lake Conway: Falling and clear;
bream good on worms and crickets.

Norfolk Lake: Bass and crappie fair on live and top water bait.

There are no attractive ones," she stated flatly when interviewed in her home May 17.

Robert Boyer, the owner of a chain of meat markets on Long Island, took Mrs. Draper's words to heart. Now she is planning a new style market for Boyer: a merry-go-round in the center of the store for bored youngsters, bright blue sand on the floor,
portraits of famous steers. . .

The Jackie Gleason Show has three weeks to run before the season ends, but Gleason will not appear personally on the CBS-TV program. Tomorrow evening singer Johnny Ray will take his place as host. Songstress Peggy Lee will appear on all three programs.
So, too, will the June Taylor dancers. . .

Jerry Lewis presents his second one-hour show since splitting from Dean Martin Saturday night on NBC-TV. Among his guests will do a comedy sketch. . .

Although it's June, the word is out that NBC-TV is having a desperate time scrounging up potential brides and grooms for Bride and Groom, which returns to the network July 1. Apparently a 11 you have to be in supply the bride - or the groom - and NBC takes care of everything else. . .

Songstress Patti Page makes her dramatic debut on Steel Hour (CBS-TV) Wednesday, June 19.
It's called "Upbeat." About a singer - rather naturally. . .

Miss Crain filed for divorce, but the suit was dropped after a New Year's Eve reconciliation.

THE STORY: Dr. Garde Shelton is taking up his duties as "substitute doctor" in a clinic in Bayer, Mo. Dr. Kurt Lillard, the member of the clinic staff whom Garde is replacing, was convicted of murder.

CHAPTER VI
Garde received his suit coat and his hat, then he went out to the central hall; he found Miss Evans, the Administrator, waiting there for him.

She was an efficient person, this Arlene Evans, and she did her best to inform the new doctor on the things he surely would want to know.

"Are you married, Miss Evans," he asked, as they went outside.

She glanced up. "Oh, no, doctor. I live with my mother and several younger brothers and a sister - on a farm five miles out of town."

"You don't look like a farm girl."

"I hope I look like a hospital administrator."
